

Caesar Reigns Again As Latin Classes Hold 15th Annual Event

By FRANCES ADAMS
Julius Caesar XV reigned again over his loyal Tartar subjects. So was the case when the Latin students of Torrance High staged their 15th annual Roman Banquet. Ray Bynum, junior, portrayed the mighty Caesar and Joyce Keeler, senior, as his lady fair, Calpurnia. Mike Sullivan depicted the High Priest, Mike officiated at the sacrifice of a slave, and gave the invocation and benediction.

a replica of a Roman banquet hall. Penny Skaggs was Sibyll and narrated the various activities. HIGHLIGHT of the evening was the appearance of the "Three Flips and a Flop," a Tartar quartet. The group was formed this year. The members are Ron Kendall, Art Grant, Tony Felix, and Larry Melton. Sandra Crabtree, as royal songstress, sang "Misty." Accordionist Jerry Roberts played the songs that won him second place in the Prom Week Talent Show contest in 1960.

THE ROYAL slaves were Andrea Wallace, Virginia Dobrick, Russell Hargrove, and John Jacobson. The slaves for the patricians and royal guests were Latin I students supplied through the courtesy of Louis Bereskin, foreign language instructor. Latin III students Jeffrey Payne, Betty Lou Kauto, Penny Skaggs, and Jim Nechvatal were the patricians, descendants of the old noble Roman families.

The official ceremonies began at 6:30 p.m. with the slaves preceding the patricians, Caesar and Calpurnia. TORRANCE HIGH teachers, Mrs. Anne Graves, contemporary problems instructor; Gerald Ronan, senior counselor; Miss Kathryn Chisholm, freshman problems instructor; Mrs. Jackie Marshall, physical education instructor; and Dr. Carl Ahee, principal were guests of KANASTER, who represented this area on the Regional Planning Commission, made a strong bid to have a public hearing on the matter of boundaries, but was outvoted. Naming the cities who had asked to have the boundaries changed, and adding up their populations, the Commissioner said, "You have 300,000 people who are not happy with the boundary as it is now drawn!"

GallenKamp To Open New Del Amo Store

Phil Haberman, GallenKamp district manager for the South Bay and Southern Communities area, will move his headquarters from the GallenKamp store in South Bay Shopping Center to the new GallenKamp family store in Del Amo Shopping Center scheduled to open on May 4th. The new Del Amo GallenKamp's, according to Leon Friedland, retail supervisor for the 48-year old Western shoe firm, will be the most complete family shoe store in the West. Designed by noted Los Angeles architect, Frederic A. Frankel, AIA, the store will be completely departmentalized with separate sections devoted to men, women, teens and children.

HEADING the delegation Wednesday night will be Attorney Boris S. Woolley, chairman of a Torrance Citizens Committee on Superior Courts, and City Attorney Stanley Remelmeyer. Key officials, including Mayor Albert Isen, Lowell Dryden of the South Bay Bar Assn., and others are expected to participate in the presentation.

New 24-Hour Prescription Service Set

A new 24 hour prescription service is available to residents of the South Bay through contacting their own physician. One of the local pharmacists of the South Bay, will be available on 10 minute call, any hour of day or night to your physician, in order to fill emergency prescriptions. This program of service, is being jointly sponsored by the South Bay District of the Los Angeles Medical Assn., and the South Bay Pharmaceutical Assn.

Spokesmen for group, urged that only emergency prescriptions be filled at odd hours, and that refill prescriptions wait until the stores open. The telephone number of this service is available to your physician, and it will be necessary for him to call for the patient.

Three Foreign Students Speak At Lions Club

Three foreign students, participants in the student exchange program of the American Field Service, were recent guests of the Torrance Lions Club. The students presented a paper on their impressions of life in the United States compared with their own country. Moderator was Linea Lillemann, United States. Students participating were Pierre-Faure, France; Gabrielle Moretti, Italy; and Brenda Memoli, Uruguay. The Lions Club presented a check for $100 to the American Field Service to further the student exchange program.
